Computer Class:

Students in grade four have been introduced to power point presentations. They have completed two assignments on Pennsylvania and student rules of etiquette for guest speakers. My dream weekend a word processing and research activity was the assigned work for the upper grades with a short power point presentation titled "Hello " introducing themselves to the audience. Grade two copy and pasted parts of a computer, they also used word processing to write a St. Patrick Day Blessing, Grade one used clip art and wrote facts on Owls that they learned in art class before they painted their owls.

Art Class:

In art class the upper grades were introduced to Neo Pop Realism and the art of using ink in a fountain pen to complete the work which was a valentine drawing. Lower grades experienced the marbleizing effect that occurs with shaving cream and food coloring. Grade three created Van Gogh's Starry Night. Tribal symbols from Mali were copied and mounted for display. Grade four enjoyed a decoupage activity using recycled juice jars. Grade five completed their African granary doors. Grade six created some beautiful book art using the folding techniques of origami. Many of the art works will be on display at the academic fair
